Thomas F. Welter joined Wallinger Ricker Schlotter Tostmann as an attorney-at-law in 2013. As he holds a Master of Business Administration (MBA) in addition to his legal training, he is in charge of our firm's operational matters.

Legal Practice

In addition to his organizational tasks, Thomas is also in charge of legal matters, which lie outside our firm's specialized practice areas. These include, in particular, labor law in support of our personnel management as well as civil law and insolvency law in connection with the activities of our accounting department.

Legal Education

Thomas studied law at the Albert-Ludwigs-Universität Freiburg (University of Freiburg) and Nagoya University in Japan, with a focus on civil law, comparative jurisprudence, and European law.

He completed his legal clerkship (Referendariat) at the regional court of Landau (Rhineland-Palatinate), including a six-month assignment at an Italian law firm in Milan, which specializes in commercial law, especially in patent and copyright law.
